service features

Through our network of secure destruction and recycling facilities across the UK, Veolia Environmental Services provides a highly secure and safe destruction service for any sensitive/confidential material for an extensive range of private and public sectors, including:

- o Government agencies
- o Pharmaceutical companies
- o IT and storage Media
- o Confidential/sensitive paper-based materials
- o Food and beverages
- o Out of date/branded stock

All vehicles arriving on site are weighed on our computerised weighbridge. Paperwork is checked and a receipt document is given in accordance with Duty of Care regulations.

The facilities operate 24-hour CCTV camera surveillance which closely monitors all areas of the site. Customers have the option of witnessing the destruction of their product or alternatively for some services a DVD recording of destruction can be made. For assurance, certificates of destruction will be issued in order to protect an organisation's products, reputation and integrity.

All our facilities licensed by the Environment Agency, have the capability to process large volumes of materials, which can be accepted in a wide range of packaging formats. A wide range of packaging material can be delivered directly to site by the customer or we can arrange collection and transport on your behalf.

Recycling and recovery from the process not only maintains our customers' confidentiality by ensuring that the product has lost its identity, but additionally minimises environmental impact, thus reducing the ever-increasing financial duty of landfill tax. Following the destruction of products, and wherever possible, we seek to reclaim and recycle the packaging material including steel, aluminium, glass, cardboard, wood and plastic.

Secure product can also be destroyed via our network of state-of-the-art Energy Recovery Facilities. Heat created from the process is converted to steam and used to generate electricity for local homes.

Present in the United Kingdom since 1990, Veolia Environmental Services is the United Kingdom's leading waste management provider. Renowned for our integrated waste management and environmental services to local communities and industry, we provide a wide range of innovative solutions and services including recycling, refuse collection and waste treatment to over 75,000 customers.
